

Literacy Support

Struggling with basic literacy skills has an impact on learning in all subjects. For that reason, one of our whole school priorities is supporting the development of vocabulary, reading and comprehension skills. 'Quality First Teaching' which is differentiated by skilled teachers is always our first wave of intervention.

We know that some pupils need help, in addition to what they already receive in the classroom. Our second wave of intervention is support for these pupils through targeted individual or group literacy interventions. Our third wave of intervention is our Alternative Learning Pathway. In this pathway, the entire curriculum is created in a way that responds to the needs of its learners and works in a flexible way from Y7 to Y11

Maths Support

Ability grouping in maths is our first wave of intervention. Pupils who struggle with maths will find themselves taught in small groups by experienced teachers. Maths clinics, group intervention, tutor time clubs and homework support, compliment daily lessons as our second wave of intervention in maths.

Partnership with Parents or Carers

There are set times in the year to discuss and review your child's SEND support:

- SEND review meeting
- Drop in days
- Parents' evenings

We also encourage parents to get in touch any time. If you have a concern, then we want to hear about it.

If you think your child needs more support at school...

Then call us, we want to help. After some form of assessment, together with you and your child, we will formulate a personalised plan. This could be as simple as setting up a meeting with a particular subject leader, to introducing a new intervention. Not all support will result in your child being added to the SEND register.

Quiet Room Support

Our Quiet Room is an important multi-functional space for any pupil struggling with the daily demands of a busy mainstream secondary school. It provides a low distraction learning space, somewhere for pupils to take a sensory break or just somewhere that feels safe. Trained staff in the Quiet Room deliver a range of interventions and strategies, as well as liaise with other teachers and agencies.

SEND Support Support Plan MYPLAN EHCP

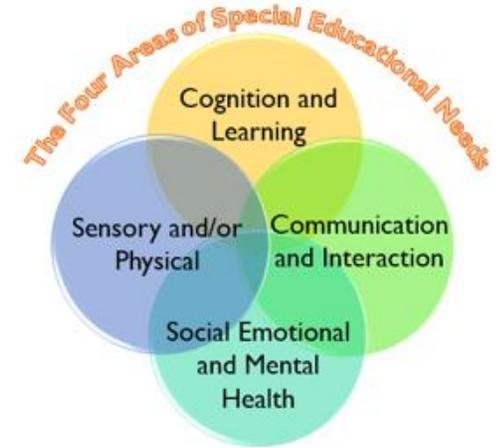

If together we decide that your child needs to receive intervention, which is in addition to that available to all pupils, then we will put them on the SEND register. Different levels of SEND support exist depending on the degree of intervention required. This is called the graduated response.

Partnership with other professionals

Some pupils may need specialist or bespoke support, which is why we work closely with a wide range of other agencies e.g. Ryegate, Speech and Language therapists, Hearing and Visually impaired services, CAMHs, behaviour specialists and Alternative Provisions to name just a few.
